

WORKERS' COMPENSATION UPDATE: MEDICAL NETWORK SERVICES

Through the Risk Management Fund, all members participating in the workers' compensation program are members of the Political Subdivision Workers' Compensation Alliance (Alliance). The Alliance is a medical network providing healthcare services to injured employees throughout the state of Texas.

Due to the pandemic, some medical network providers have adjusted their operations. The Alliance has created a COVID-19 Update section on the home page of their website www.pswca.org with a list of clinics and medical providers that have reported changes in their operations. Changes include closures, changes in operating hours, and the addition of telemedicine and telehealth services. This information is updated twice weekly.

If you are looking for a medical provider in your area or need additional assistance, please visit the Alliance website at www.pswca.org. In addition to the COVID-19 Updates, the Alliance has several online tools and resources for members their injured workers.

As a reminder, any COVID-19 related claims should be reported to the Risk Management Fund following the same process as any other workers' compensation claims. You can find information regarding the workers' compensation claims process by accessing the Services page of the Risk Management Fund's website at www.twcarmf.org. You may also contact Risk Management Fund staff for additional assistance.
